

ABOUT ALOGENT

Prospering in a time of technology, economic and member demographic volatility is a central challenge for every credit union. Meeting member demands drives everything you do, and this means constant innovation, from user services to behind the scenes operations.

Alogent's software solutions offer all out innovation for over 1,400 credit unions nationwide. Our approach is unique because it can span the entire transaction "ecosystem"—from capturing and digitizing transaction data like checks and loan documents, to automating entire transaction workflows, to making information available when and where it is needed.

Innovation is nothing unless it fits smoothly into the credit union environment. Alogent understands how credit unions work. Our solutions integrate with and improve on the capabilities of your current core and specialized systems. And we take a consultative, partnership approach that extends throughout the life of our relationship.

Ride the next waves of change with the right technology platform and partner. Take advantage of our advanced payment processing and document imaging solutions, our unmatched content and workflow management tools, and our growing array member self-service innovations.

OUR CUSTOMERS

"Working with [Alogent], we always feel valued as a customer & partner; our feedback is truly appreciated."

—Mary Isaacs, EVP/CFO, Altra Federal Credit Union

"Alogent's support team has always been extremely helpful. Communication and timely follow-up are strong points for [Alogent], and our support representative periodically reaches out to us to check in and to ensure optimal system performance."

—Raymond Ignacio, IT Manager, HFS Federal Credit Union

"From a cost/benefit perspective, [Alogent's] solution was well worth the investment. It is completely scalable and designed to grow as we expand our membership. Now that we've seen the benefits of an integrated capture and content management solution, we'll never go back."

—Randy Glassburn, CEO, Ball State Credit Union

"Working with [Alogent] has increased our level of service significantly and, with the time and cost savings, allowed us to focus on our members and continue to strive for excellence."

—Karen Simpson, EVP, Dover Federal Credit Unions

Alogent is the result of the 2016 merger of Bluepoint Solutions & Alogent Corporation. Bluepoint's leading credit union solutions—helping you simplify operations and create new opportunities since 2000—are now available under the Alogent Blue name. Today, we are more committed than ever to helping you meet your goals and serve your members.
